

CONTENTS

What Next? No.25 2003

Contributors

Brian Green is a member of the London Socialist Alliance

Carolyn Culver is a member of Aldershot Labour Party

Moshé Machover is an Israeli dissident and a member of Matzpen, the socialist organisation in Israel

Bob Pitt is the editor of What Next?

Martin Sullivan is a member of the Labour Party

David Osler is an author, journalist and member of the Socialist Alliance

Daniel Blaney is a member of Billericay Labour Party and a student in London

Andrew Robinson is researching theories of oppression and is active in the anti-war movement

Chris Wright is a Marxist in the United States

Mike Pearn is a socialist in South Wales and a former SWP member

Tobias Abse is the author of Sovversivi e Fascisti a Livorno and many articles on Italian history

WORLD ECONOMY:

BEGINNING TO LOOK LIKE A SLUMP

Brian Green 2

NO WAR ON IRAQ!

Carolyn Culver 7

TONY BLAIR'S DILEMMA

Moshé Machover 8

CYNICISM AND THE SWP

Bob Pitt 10

NEW LABOUR AND PUBLIC OPINION

Martin Sullivan 12

TAKING IT ON TRUST

David Osler 13

HOW SHOULD WE FIGHT BLAIRISM?

Martin Sullivan 22

THE CONGESTION CHARGE:

WHY THE LEFT SHOULD SUPPORT IT

Daniel Blaney 26

WHERE NOW FOR "MARXISM"?

READING MARX CREATIVELY

Andrew Robinson 28

COMMENTS ON MIKE ROOKE'S "THE LIMITATIONS OF 'OPEN MARXISM'"

Chris Wright 33

AUSTRO-MARXISM AND THE NATIONAL QUESTION

Andrés Nin 41

JIM HIGGINS MEMORIAL MEETING

Mike Pearn 45

1956 AND ALL THAT

Jim Higgins 47

TOGLIATTI: LOYAL SERVANT OF STALIN

Tobias Abse 51

REVIEWS 66

LETTERS 70